Breakfast, lazing around, and eating biscuits. What is it to you? Just a thing. You know, the sort of thing you enjoy on a pleasant morning when the sun is shining outside. Your average day. I mean, you may choose to do things. Just not that much things. You don't even choose them all. Not like they're choices. You don't even remember them, when you do them. You are the sky. You are the sound. You are the raindrops. It's just a thing you like to do on a morning like this. You are a thing you like to do. A thing you are. But then... a rush of air as you sense someone's presence. The sky makes a sound as it changes shape. The sound that the sky makes is always the same. It makes a sound just like you. A word. Just a word. It says nothing. You. "You." Yes. I'm here. You're here. I. You are a thing. The thing that makes a sound is here. "I am you." The thing that is. " 82157476af
